Comments: I am urging you to accept internationally validated non-animal testing methods. The cruel use of animals in laboratories and slaughterhouses is demoralizing. It is unhealthy for our psyche and way of life. Animals, although smaller and less capable than humans, are still life. It is to the benefit of man that we treat all animals with respect and care.

Finding alternative ways of research is the right thing to do. Animal testing sends desensitizing messages to children. Our future depends on our current actions. Stop the unnecessary pain of these innocent creatures.

Sincerely,

Courtney Murphy
